

The Abbeyfield Gold Star

Abbeyfield Oxford Society's Mission Statement:

“To enhance the quality of life for older people, in the Abbeyfield Oxford Society specifically, and in the Oxford area in general.”

The Abbeyfield Oxford Society's Organisational Values:

Caring means that the wellbeing of our residents is central to everything we do, and that every individual will be treated with dignity and respect. It also embraces our volunteers and staff, and by learning and supporting each other, the Abbeyfield Oxford Society will be an organisation where people can grow and find fulfillment.

Openness means that as an organisation we encourage and support new ideas from our residents, volunteers and staff, and by learning through discussion we appreciate each other's differences and will adopt suggestions which improve the service that the Abbeyfield Oxford Society provides. We will be open to change, and will seize opportunities that allow us to continue working towards our mission.

Honesty means that we will each work in an ethical way. As individuals we will each lead by example in order that residents, volunteers, and staff will have confidence in the integrity of the Abbeyfield Oxford Society.

Respect is something we understand we have to earn. We earn it not only by valuing each other as individuals, and valuing each others views, beliefs and background, but also by working hard to develop relationships with our residents, volunteers, staff and the communities in which we operate. We act in a respectful way towards each other; honouring the commitments and promises we have made to each other.
